Rum Point

Yesterday and Today

So named for remnants of rum barrels once washed ashore from floundering ships this pristine slice of the northside of Grand Cayman is a picturesque island retreat. With its extensive shallow waters shaded by tall Casuarina pine trees, Rum Point had long been a gathering spot for locals. When the original developers happened upon the shores of Rum Point they were immediately enchanted by this paradise. Rum Point Club, with its four employees, was originally operated by just candlelight and kerosene.

Recognizing the historical importance of Rum Point, a group of investors purchased the Rum Point Club in 1994 and made improvements to create an atmosphere welcoming to both locals and visitors while respecting the Club's free-spirited past and public affection.

On behalf of the Rum Point staff it is our pleasure to perpetuate the inspiration of tranquility, friendliness and service inspired by the original developers and all those before us who have enjoyed these shores.

What to do:

1. Swim and snorkel in the shallow, clear water.

5. Take a Glassbottom Boat trip to Stingray Sandbar.
6. Scuba Dive or learn how.
7. Enjoy a beach side massage.
8. Shop for island treasures at the Rum Point Boutique.
9. Enjoy lunch from the Wreck Bar & Grill.
10. Sip a Mudslide and toast another perfect day in paradise!
